

IN THE CLAIMS:Listing of Claims:

- 1 1. (original) A plant/dry gift assembly, comprising:
 - 2 a dry assembly comprising a dry vessel defining a top opening and having non-
 - 3 perforated walls; and
 - 4 a wet assembly comprising a wet vessel, said wet vessel inserted into said top
 - 5 opening.
- 1 2. (original) The assembly of Claim 1, wherein said dry vessel further comprises a
- 2 throat adjacent to said top opening, said wet vessel and said throat cooperatively arranged
- 3 whereby said wet assembly is insertible into said throat.
- 1 3. (original) The assembly of Claim 2, wherein said dry vessel is further defined by a
- 2 dry chamber within which dry contents are retained.
- 1 4. (original) The assembly of Claim 3, wherein said dry vessel is designed to prevent
- 2 said wet vessel from being placed into said dry chamber.
- 1 5. (original) The assembly of Claim 4, wherein said dry contents comprise candy.
- 1 6. (original) The assembly of Claim 5, wherein said wet assembly further comprises an
- 2 oasis block residing within said wet vessel.
- 1 7. (original) The assembly of Claim 6, wherein said wet assembly further comprises a
- 2 plurality of live plants inserted into said oasis block.
- 1 8. (original) The assembly of Claim 3, wherein said dry contents comprise bath
- 2 products.
- 1 9. (original) The assembly of Claim 3, wherein said dry contents comprise at least one
- 2 stuffed figurine.
- 1 10. (original) A combination flower arrangement and gift assembly, comprising:

2 a dry assembly comprising a dry vessel defining a top opening; and

3 a wet assembly comprising a wet vessel, said wet vessel configured to retain an 4 arrangement of living plants and configured to cooperate with said dry assembly such
5 that said wet vessel is insertible into said top opening.

1 11. (original) The combination of Claim 10, wherein said dry vessel further comprises
2 a substantially clear vessel defined by a throat adjacent to said top opening, said wet
3 vessel and said throat cooperatively arranged whereby said wet assembly is insertible into 4 said throat.

1 12. (original) The combination of Claim 11, wherein said dry vessel is further defined
2 by a dry chamber within which dry contents are retained.

1 13. (original) The combination of Claim 12, wherein said dry vessel is designed to
2 prevent said wet vessel from being placed into said dry chamber.

1 14. (original) The combination of Claim 13, wherein said wet assembly further
2 comprises an oasis block residing within said wet vessel, and said wet vessel is made
3 from substantially clear material.

1 15. (original) The combination of Claim 14, wherein said wet assembly further
2 comprises a plurality of live plants inserted into said oasis block.

1 16. (cancelled) A method for assembling a plant/dry gift assembly comprising the
2 steps of:

3 assembling a wet assembly defined by a wet vessel;

4 assembling a dry assembly defined by a dry vessel having a dry chamber within
5 which dry contents are placed; and

6 inserting said wet assembly into said dry assembly.

7

1 17. (cancelled) The method of Claim 16, wherein said wet assembly assembling step
2 comprises inserting an oasis block means into said wet vessel prior to said inserting said
3 wet assembly into said dry assembly.

1 18. (cancelled) The method of Claim 17, wherein said wet assembly assembling step
2 comprises inserting live plants into said oasis block means prior to said inserting said wet
3 assembly into said dry assembly.

1 19. (new) A method for assembling a plant/dry gift assembly comprising the steps of:
2 assembling a wet assembly defined by a wet vessel, an oasis block means and live
3 plants inserted into said oasis block means;
4 assembling a dry assembly defined by a dry vessel having a dry chamber within
5 which dry contents are placed; and
6 inserting said wet assembly into said dry assembly.